

WidePoint Company iSYS Awarded IDIQ Contract Valued Up to $93M

Tuesday, January 15, 2008

FAIRFAX, Va. — WidePoint Corporation (AMEX: WYY), a leading provider of advanced information technology products and services including identity management and information assurance services, forensic informatics and wireless technology services, today announced its wholly owned subsidiary, iSYS, was awarded a contract with the General Services Administration (GSA) under the Federal Strategic Sourcing Initiative (FSSI) to support wireless telecommunications expense management (TEM) services for multiple federal agencies. The indefinite delivery/indefinite quantity (IDIQ) contract is valued up to $93 million over a five-year period.

iSYS is the largest provider of wireless TEM services to the federal government. This new award provides iSYS the opportunity to continue to expand its offerings across an additional 15 federal government agencies.

WidePoint CEO Steve Komar said, “Mobile technology management is an emerging growth area and we are pleased to have won such a critical, high profile award. This award highlights the impact that we believe iSYS will have on our business and further validates the strength of its management and capabilities.”

Jin Kang, President of iSYS, said, “We are extremely pleased to have been selected by the GSA for this award. High visibility contract awards like this one validate the value inherent in our proprietary software and federal government contracting experience. We look forward to the high-growth potential that this marketplace offers in 2008 and beyond.”
