

WidePoint Subsidiary ORC Receives First-Issued GSA Approval to Provide Complete HSPD-12 Security Measures

Two Recent GSA Awards Qualify Company to Render Products and Services for Entire HSPD-12 Directive

Tuesday, July 25, 2006

Fairfax, VA -- WidePoint Corporation (OTC Bulletin Board: WDPT) announced today that its wholly owned subsidiary Operational Research Consultants, Inc. (ORC) has been issued its final two contract approvals by the General Services Administration (GSA) to provide federal agencies complete end-to-end solutions for Homeland Security Presidential Directive-12 (HSPD-12).

Earlier this month, WidePoint announced that ORC was qualified as a compliant Share Service Provider (SSP) under FIPS 201 and was the first and sole company to be technically qualified to provide complete end-to-end solutions for HSPD-12. With the GSA awards of Special Item Number (SIN) 132-61 and SIN 132-62, ORC becomes the first and sole company to receive official contract approval to allow federal government agencies the ability to procure end-to-end solutions for HSPD-12.

Steve Komar, CEO of WidePoint, said, "ORC is now the first and only company qualified with an official contract approval for all three categories under this directive. These approvals position ORC in the forefront to help agencies meet their mandated deadlines and reaffirm ORC's position as the leading provider of federal public key infrastructure (PKI) and shared services. These GSA-issued qualifications confirm ORC's reputation as an elite provider of a wide range of information assurance security solutions, from HSPD-12 planning and integration to managed credentialing services."

ORC has also been evaluated and approved to provide:

- Integration services for integration of more than one personal identity verification (PIV) service and product, including interfaces between PIV components and with agency PIV systems;
- Turn-key agency-owned integrated PIV solutions, comprised of more than one PIV service; and
- Contractor owned and managed service that provides integrated PIV solutions.

Komar said, "ORC is partnered with an exceptional team that provides best-in-class solutions, including Tumbleweed, RSA Security, Siemens, XTec, nCipher and many others."
