

WidePoint Announces $12.5 Million in New Orders in Past Four Months

Thursday, June 04, 2009

Washington D.C., -- WidePoint Corporation (NYSE AMEX: WYY), a leading provider of advanced information technology, identity assurance and protection, and mobile telecom managed services (MTMS), said it has received more than $12.5 million in new task orders, renewals, and contract expansions during the past four months adding to WidePoint's overall backlog.

WidePoint CEO Steve Komar said, "Over the past several months we have continued to see growth in task orders, renewals, and contract expansions adding to our backlog of services. We are pleased with the recurrence of contract option renewals and in several instances the expansion of additional funding for services from a variety of agencies including the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Department of Homeland Security, the Defense Logistics Agency, the National Institutes of Health, the Transportation Security Administration, the Department of Defense, the Veterans Administration and numerous commercial clients doing business with the federal government. We are presently working on a number of additional opportunities that we believe will be awarded over the next several months that underscores our confidence that 2009 will be a record year of growth for WidePoint Corporation."
