WidePoint Corporation Reports Second Quarter 2011 Results

Second Quarter Profitability Driven by Improved Margins

WASHINGTON, August 15, 2011 /PRNewswire-FirstCall/ -- WidePoint Corporation (NYSE Amex: WYY), a specialist in wireless mobility management and cybersecurity solutions, today announced financial results for the three months ending June 30, 2011.

Second Quarter 2011 Highlights

- Net revenue for the quarter ended June 30, 2011 decreased approximately 20% to $10.0 million from $12.5 million in last year's comparable period as Consulting Segment revenues were negatively impacted by federal government budget delays and debt ceiling debates. Overall Outlook for the second half of 2011 improves with budget delays and debt ceiling debate issues resolved for FYE 2011.
- Wireless Mobility Management revenue increased 9.8% to $6.2 million for the second quarter of 2011 from $5.6 million in the first quarter of 2011, but decreased 10.6% year-over-year compared to $6.9 million in the second quarter of last year as a result of lower resale's of billable calling minutes that were not fully offset by increases in higher margin wireless management recurring service fees. Outlook for second half of 2011 improves with growing pipeline of opportunities, recent awards, and renewals.
- Cybersecurity segment revenue increased 82.7% to $2.3 million in the second quarter of 2011 from $1.3 million in the first quarter of this year, but decreased 7.7% year-over-year compared to $2.5 million in the second quarter of last year, also as a result of delays that occurred due to federal government budget funding concerns, policy issues, and debt ceiling debates. Outlook for second half of 2011 improves as the federal government implements new security guidelines and phase out the use of user names and passwords from certain federal government systems.
- Gross margin increased by 55% to 27.1% in the second quarter of this year as compared to 17.5% in the first quarter of 2011, and increased by 15% year-over-year compared to 23.5% in the second quarter of last year, due to more favorable revenue mix of higher margin services.
- The Company returned to profitability, with income from operations of approximately $384,000 for the second quarter of 2011 as compared to income from operations of approximately $511,000 in last year's comparable period.
- Net income was approximately $214,000 for the second quarter of 2011 as compared to net income of approximately $413,000 in last year's comparable period.

Steve Komar, CEO, WidePoint, commented, "WidePoint was able to return to profitability in the second quarter, despite the short-term hurdles that impacted our business during much of the first half of the year. The timing of product delivery and product mix, primarily due to the delay in passing an approved 2011 federal budget and the ensuing debt ceiling debates, again had an impact on revenues in the second quarter, much as it did in the first quarter. However, as expected, we experienced an increase in both Wireless Mobility Management and Cybersecurity segment revenues over the first quarter of 2011, though these increases were offset by decreases in our Consulting segment related to the confusion that accompanied federal government funding for the past several months. We remain committed to re-establishing our growth and earnings trajectory in the second half of 2011, notwithstanding some of the short-term risk issues tied to federal governmental budgeting impasses and spending cuts."

Mr. Komar continued, "We have established ourselves as a credible and trustworthy partner to expanded government and commercial markets, and the position we have built in the government sector is driving demand as federal agencies increasingly require vendors and contractors to comply with enhanced security as well as uniform credentialing initiatives. This is driving additional business to WidePoint's subsidiaries with a large part of this new business generated from non-government funded revenue. We believe that our Cybersecurity initiatives will be our primary driver for growth as governmental agencies work to prevent terrorism and promote national security; prevent cybercrime and identity theft; defend federal infrastructure from invasive attack and information theft; and promote efficient use of cost-effective technology such as our products and solutions."

WidePoint CFO Jim McCubbin commented, "This quarter we benefitted from a greater percentage of higher margin business from our Cybersecurity segment that had a corresponding positive impact on gross profit and gross margins. Despite the challenges which have impacted our revenues in the first half of 2011, we returned our business to profitability in the quarter. We expect the second half of 2011 to show overall financial improvements compared to the first half, as the budget and debt discussions related to fiscal year 2011 begin to be finalized, and we remain extremely optimistic about our opportunities in 2012 and beyond."
