WidePoint Included by GSA on Source List for Mobile Lifecycle & Expense Management Solutions

WidePoint subsidiary iSYS meets requirements set by the GSA Managed Mobility Program, with solutions that help federal agencies manage the mobile lifecycle and significantly reduce wireless costs

McLean, Virginia – April 16, 2014 – WidePoint Corporation (NYSE Mkt: WYY), a leading provider of Managed Mobility Solutions featuring enterprise-wide telecommunications management, cybersecurity, identity and data assurance, and consulting solutions delivered in a secured environment, announced today its subsidiary iSYS LLC has been approved by GSA’s Managed Mobility Program Office as a potential source for Mobile Lifecycle and Expense Management (ML&EM) for the federal government.

Inclusion on the list gives WidePoint additional visibility to potential government customers, who may rely on it for solutions that meet the government’s functional ML&EM requirements. WidePoint met and exceeded the stringent requirements, which include having available FIPS 140-2 compliant solutions and a functional understanding of Federal Information Security Management Act (FISMA) compliance (<http://www.gsa.gov/portal/content/187875>).

“The GSA’s Managed Mobility Program gives federal agencies resources and guidance to help them securely implement solutions that meet mobility needs and requirements. WidePoint is pleased to be a part of GSA’s list of sources that agencies can rely on for Mobile Lifecycle & Expense Management,” said Jin H. Kang, Chief Operations Officer of WidePoint Corporation. He further stated, “The GSA Managed Mobility Program will serve as an exceptional vehicle of exposure for WidePoint as a whole.”

“We are pleased to be included on GSA’s list of potential sources for Mobile Lifecycle & Expense Management,” said Steve L. Komar, CEO & Chairman of WidePoint. He added, “WidePoint is a leading and long-time provider of Telecom Expense Management and Managed Mobility Services to the federal government, and we look forward significantly growing our federal business through the networking and visibility that GSA's Managed Mobility Program can provide.”
